

Hello, I'm Catherine C. Turner

about me

I graduated from the Rochester Institute of Technology in May 2015 with a BFA in Medical Illustration. I became interested in this field because of my interest in combining art and science. I am fluent in many styles and will work in a myriad of mediums. I have experience in Graphic Design with a direct mail firm, as well as freelance experience creating logos, fliers and websites.

get in touch

301.254.7176
ccturner15@gmail.com catherineturner.com

memberships

- Association of Medical Illustrators
- National Society of Leadership and Success
- Determined Individuals Victoriously Achieving Success

certifications

CPR Certified | American Heart Association

publications

Tyler, C. (2014). The Defense of the Gospel (C. Turner, Illustrator).

references

Jim Perkins • RIT
Medical Illustrator Professor
585.475.2443 | japfaa@rit.edu

Donny Bliss • NIH
Medical Illustrator
301.480.1755 | blissd@mail.nih.gov

Nick Snyder • The Pivot Group
Creative Services Director
404.509.7738 | nsnyder@thepivot.com

Stacey Maloney • The Pivot Group
Design Director
718.687.0024 | smaloney@thepivot.com

skills

education

Rochester Institute of Technology | Rochester, NY
August 2012 - May 2015
Major: Medical Illustration
Degree: BFA in Medical Illustration GPA: 3.750

graphic design experience

The Pivot Group | Washington, DC
July 2016 - November 2016

Jr. Graphic Designer

- Addressed and interpreted client edits that resulted in an optimal finished product.
- Created smart, strategic, concepts that tackled big political issues.
- Created production-ready work across platforms, including direct mail, brand identity, broadcast and digital.
- Worked with a team of graphic designers to create concepts and interpret client edits for Hillary for America.

medical illustration experience

American Pharmacist Association | Washington, DC
September 2016 - Present

Medical Illustrator Contractor

- Created illustrations for APhA's National Pain Day Conference.
- Studied the effects of opioid abuse.

Litron Laboratories | Rochester, NY

June 2015 - November 2015

Freelance

- Created medical illustrations for the laboratory's cell kits that will be distributed across the country to other labs.

National Institute of Health (NIH) | Bethesda, MD

June 2014 - August 2014

Medical Illustrator Intern

- Researched and created an animation focused on the discovery of the conformational changes of the HIV spike.
- Presented a final presentation of the internship research to senior management officials at NIH.

teaching experience

Roman's Robots | Fairfax, VA

August 2015 - March 2016

Jr. Instructor

- Traveled to schools and taught hands-on science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) courses in after school programs.